The Turbulent Flight

It had been a long and turbulent flight. The passengers were tired of the rough ride, and the landing was even worse. As the passengers exited the plane the captain stood by the cockpit door to thank them for choosing to fly with their airline.

The pilot dreaded this because of the unusually hard landing. Surprisingly, the people piled off the plane and no one said a word, until the very last passenger, an elderly lady. As she stood in front of the captain, she glared and said, "Can I ask a question?" "Sure" answered the captain. "Did we land, or were we shot down?"

Not a week goes by without witnessing the brutality of someone's negative manner and attitude.

Families are hurt, employees become discouraged, volunteers lose their motivation, and spouses feel like giving up – all because of a lack of positive encouragement and affirmation.

Helping someone else to the top

When you help someone up the hill, you get that much closer to the top yourself.

Hebrews 3:13 - But encourage one another every day, as long as it is still called "today," so that none of you will be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. (NASB)
